Product Overview

Discover the traditional beauty secret of the women of Chad with Melanic Organic Chebe Powder. Ground from the seeds, bark, and resin of the Croton gratissimus shrub, chebe has been used for generations to help protect hair, support length retention, and maintain a healthy scalp. This finely milled powder is traditionally blended with oils and butters to create a fragrant styling paste passed down through generations of hair care rituals.

Melanic Organic Chebe Powder is sourced and milled with care, free from synthetic fillers, artificial fragrance, or additives — just pure, traditionally prepared chebe ready to mix into your own hair butter or paste at home.

Key Benefits

- Traditionally used to help support hair length retention
- May help protect strands from everyday breakage and manipulation
- Supports a moisturized, coated feel on dry or brittle hair
- Helps create a natural barrier that may reduce split ends over time
- Carries a warm, earthy, traditional aroma when blended into pastes
- Versatile for DIY hair butters, pastes, and pre-poo treatments
- Finely milled for easy blending with oils, butters, and conditioners
- Made from pure, traditionally sourced ingredients with no synthetic additives

Who Should Use This

- Anyone working on a hair length-retention or hair health journey
- Those with dry, brittle, or breakage-prone hair looking for extra protection
- Natural hair enthusiasts who enjoy DIY hair butters and traditional recipes
- People wanting to incorporate time-honored, plant-based hair rituals into their routine
- Anyone seeking a fragrant, protective styling paste as part of a protective style routine

When & How to Use

Making chebe paste: Mix chebe powder with melted shea butter and oils of your choice (such as castor or coconut oil) until it forms a thick paste.

Application: Apply the paste in sections along the length of clean, detangled hair, focusing on the ends and areas prone to breakage.

Frequency: Many use chebe paste as part of a weekly or bi-weekly protective styling and moisture routine.

Styling: Often applied before braiding, twisting, or other protective styles to help coat and protect the hair strand.

Key Ingredients

Chebe (Croton gratissimus): Ground seeds, bark, and resin traditionally used in Chadian hair care to support length retention and protect strands from breakage.
